In 2012–13 SMU celebrated the third year of the University’s centennial commemoration period. SMU’s progress was marked by major strides forward in the key areas of student quality, faculty and academic excellence and the campus experience. A global audience watched as SMU celebrated the dedication of the George W. Bush Presidential Center. And thanks to the inspiring support of alumni, parents and friends for The Second Century Campaign, SMU continued to build a strong foundation for an extraordinary second century on the Hilltop.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIR OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

November 2013

Commitments to The Second Century Campaign continued to have an impact on every aspect of SMU, enhancing student quality, faculty and academic excellence and the campus experience.

This annual report highlights some of the many strides forward taken by SMU during 2012–13. In one measure of the University’s increasing student quality, the average SAT score of first-year students rose to 1274, a 26-point rise over the previous year, en route to a goal of 1300. Much of this progress is attributable to support for merit-based scholarships.

Donors understand the impact of these scholarships in bringing to the Hilltop high-performing students who might not otherwise be able to afford the quality of an SMU education.

I am especially pleased to report that SMU also received generous commitments for the establishment of nine new endowed faculty positions during the year. With these additions, the University has 94 such positions and is within striking distance of achieving an announced goal of at least 100. Endowments like these are a crucial part of the University’s effort to attract and retain top faculty experts across disciplines, who contribute to the University’s academic reputation. When you bring together bright students with distinguished professors, something magical occurs in the classrooms, labs and studios of the campus.

SMU also continued to make remarkable progress in raising funds to add and enhance campus facilities that improve the lives of students and faculty members and support achievement in every area of endeavor. These range from new residential halls for an innovative living-and-learning environment to renovated facilities for the libraries and athletics.

Such progress is the direct result of the generosity and efforts of all who care deeply about SMU and its role in educating tomorrow’s leaders. The decision by the Board of Trustees this September to increase the financial goal of The Second Century Campaign to $1 billion represents an extraordinary vote of confidence in the future of the University and ensures that SMU will continue to move forward.

We all should be proud of how far we have traveled together. I am sure we will be prouder still of the future we are building together. Thank you.

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

November 2013

With your ongoing support, every year at SMU proves to be filled with remarkable progress, especially during our centennial commemoration era, 2011–2015. I must say, however, that 2013 stands out as a special milestone.

We have had the opportunity to enjoy some experiences that are truly unique. This descriptor certainly fits the events on and surrounding April 25, when the President of the United States and four of his predecessors arrived on campus to dedicate the George W. Bush Presidential Center, housing the library, museum and independent institute. The library itself breaks the mold among such presidential facilities – it is the first one of the 21st century and the first of the social media age. More than 12,000 visitors joined the dedication celebrations, and media coverage resulted in more than 1.1 million articles mentioning SMU as the Bush Center’s location. In this annual report, you will read more about this special time on campus.

In addition, we marked a milestone in our Second Century Campaign. We surpassed our goal of $750 million in September, ahead of our 2015 target date. Building on this momentum, the SMU Board of Trustees decided to raise the goal to $1 billion to complete high-priority projects and keep us moving forward. This commitment puts SMU among 34 distinguished private universities nationwide that have led or are now conducting campaigns of a billion or more.

We also saw history being made for the Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development, as benefactors Harold C. and Annette Simmons committed a new $25 million gift to fund a second building and three new endowed academic positions for the school. This commitment follows their gift of $20 million to the school in 2007.

Last year SMU also engaged in a branding effort to reflect our mission and the achievements of our students, faculty and alumni. The resulting theme, “World Changers Shaped Here,” is being communicated through advertising, billboards, banners and other venues. The response has been a resounding affirmation that this is indeed the impact exemplified by SMU.

Thank you to the hundreds of donors who are supporting our future world changers and for making the year both unique and historic in so many ways.

R. GERALD TURNER

UNBRIDLED IMPACT

THE SECOND CENTURY CELEBRATION

In 2012–13 SMU marked the third year of The Second Century Celebration, a five-year period commemorating the 100th anniversaries of SMU's founding in 1911 and opening in 1915. In addition to honoring the past, The Second Century Celebration is designed to highlight the University's present and future as a top educational institution with impact on the region and the nation. The celebration includes special events, exhibitions and publications.

In fall 2012, in acknowledgment of the centennial year of the campus master plan of 1912, SMU celebrated the Year of the Campus, highlighting SMU's special campus and new campus construction initiatives. Events included a historic gathering, held during Homecoming, honoring all of the donors to SMU campus facilities over the last century.

During the event, SMU unveiled The SMU Campus at 100 – a souvenir book featuring photographs and descriptions of all SMU facilities, the first book ever to do so. The book also includes projects currently under way and those anticipated in the near future.

The centennial of SMU's first building, Dallas Hall, was celebrated with several events. Among them was a dinner hosted by SMU President R. Gerald Turner for members of the Dallas Hall Society which honors planned giving donors, held on November 28, the anniversary of the laying of the building's cornerstone.

In spring 2013 SMU launched the Year of the Library, celebrating the centennial of the founding of SMU's first library. Notably, in 2013 SMU also welcomed the new George W. Bush Presidential Center, including the Bush Presidential Library and Museum. Founders' Day festivities, April 19, focused on welcoming the facility as SMU's newest library. As part of the festivities, SMU presented a 19th-century manuscript, purchased with funds provided by the Centennial Host Committee and given in honor of President and Mrs. Bush, to SMU's DeGolyer Library. This book, An Account of Four Years Travels by John Maley, is also the four millionth volume added to the SMU library collection since its founding.

UNBRIDLED LEADERSHIP

MAKING HISTORY ON THE HILLTOP: WELCOMING THE PRESIDENTS

SMU made history April 25, 2013, when the University welcomed five U.S. Presidents to the Hilltop. The gathering was the first of the so-called Presidents' Club in several years, bringing together President Barack Obama with Jimmy Carter, George H.W. Bush, Bill Clinton and George W. Bush, the individual they came to honor. The presidents assembled to dedicate the George W. Bush Presidential Center, housing the first presidential library and museum of the 21st century, the first such facility of the social media age and the third to be located in Texas. More than 12,000 visitors joined the celebration, among them leaders from throughout the world. (continued on next page)

HAIL TO THE CHIEFS

To celebrate the dedication of the George W. Bush Presidential Center, SMU became the setting for 12 events in five days, attracting visitors ranging from U.S. and foreign dignitaries to area schoolchildren.

For SMU President R. Gerald Turner, the “significance of April 25 cannot truly be described or predicted, as it opens up the home of documents and artifacts chronicling a unique time in U.S. history. No matter what one’s political views, the Bush Center establishes SMU as a major resource for presidential history.”

The George W. Bush Presidential Library and Museum is the 13th such resource in the nation operated by the National Archives and Records Administration, a federal agency. The George W. Bush Institute, an independent public policy organization, reports to the private Bush Foundation.

Starting April 22, the SMU campus hosted 12 events in five days planned by the Bush Foundation, ranging from private dinners for donors and dignitaries to the formal dedication ceremony to a massive block party co-hosted by SMU and the Bush Foundation. For the pageantry of the dedication, a massive stage and seating area were erected on the north side of the Bush Center along SMU Boulevard, with seating also on the nearby intramural field. SMU faculty, staff and students not attending the ceremony watched simulcasts online, in McFarlin Auditorium or at an outdoor screen.

Each visiting president made remarks praising Bush for progress on key issues they shared as priorities for the country. But in his comments, Bush turned the spotlight on SMU. “I want to thank the people who have made this project a success. President Gerald Turner runs a fantastic university ... with active trustees, dedicated faculty and a student body that is awesome,” the latter remark eliciting a huge cheer from students in the audience. He continued, “Today I am proud to dedicate this center to the American people.”

More than 600 media representatives from around the world converged on campus for the dedication, among them Diane Sawyer of ABC and Matt Lauer of NBC. In a four-day period, SMU was mentioned as the home of the Bush Center in 1.1 million articles worldwide.

At the same time, SMU was under the watchful eyes of more than 250 law enforcement personnel from SMU’s Police Department and local, state and federal agencies, in addition to the U.S. Secret Service, which supervised security for the dedication. Military helicopters and F-16 jets could be heard overhead.

The capstone event, especially for SMU community members not present at the dedication ceremony, was an evening block party on the intramural field and lighting of the Bush Center’s Freedom Hall. Together, those events attracted more than 12,000 students, faculty and staff and their families, SMU neighbors and Bush Center guests. Featuring games, food and entertainment by students and alumnus Jack Ingram ’93, the block party culminated with a nine-minute pyrotechnics show. Fireworks formed a giant “W” in the sky.

“Awesome” was a common word used by students to describe the presence of five U.S. presidents on campus. “The world truly came to SMU on April 25,” Turner said, “and it will continue to do so because of the Bush Center.”

FOUNDERS' DAY with an ADDED ATTRACTION

For the SMU community, festivities celebrating the George W. Bush Presidential Center began on Founders' Day April 19, including a surprise visit from President Bush. More than 3,000 SMU alumni, students, faculty and staff applauded as Bush walked down the steps of Dallas Hall to the speaker's platform with SMU President R. Gerald Turner.

"You see a guy who's grateful, really grateful, that the leadership of SMU and the Board of Trustees made it possible that Laura and I could build the Bush Presidential Center on this campus," Bush said. "Today is a day to give thanks, and I'm the most thankful person here."

Following student performances of music specially composed for the event, Turner continued the theme of gratitude. "First, of course, thank you to George W. Bush and Laura Bush. We're honored with your historic decision to place this Center on our campus."

Expressions of gratitude included:

- A Bush Ave. street sign presented by University Park Mayor Richard B. Davis. It represents a renamed portion of Airline Road and Dublin Street near the Bush Center, now officially located at the corner of SMU Boulevard and Bush Avenue.
- A bound book of student letters welcoming the Center to campus, along with a tiny Mustang cheerleader outfit for Bush's new granddaughter, presented by SMU student leaders.

BUSH INSTITUTE CONTINUES PROGRAMMING

The George W. Bush Institute continued its programming in 2012–13 focusing on education, economic growth, human freedom and global health. The Institute graduated its first class of leadership trainees through its Women's Initiative Fellowship Program. Under the program, 14 Egyptian women came to campus to start their yearlong national program with classes developed and taught by 17 SMU faculty in business, anthropology, communications, political science, law and education. The second class of 19 fellows began their training at SMU in March 2013.

In 2012, a Bush Institute fellow became the first to join the SMU faculty with tenure. Eric Bing, senior fellow and director of global health at the Bush Institute, now is also professor of global health in the Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development and in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences, an appointment approved by departmental faculty members in both schools.

Throughout the year, President Bush continued to visit with classes and student groups, including a surprise visit with more than 100 students at a Hunt Leadership Scholars Program event, where he engaged in a candid question-and-answer session.

- A Board of Trustees resolution presented by Board Chair Caren H. Prothro. "Today is the culmination of literally years of work and collaborative efforts of thousands of individuals," she said.
- In honor of the Bush Center dedication, the Board of Trustees' gift of a newly discovered 19th-century journal, An Account of Four Years Travels, by American explorer John Maley, which became the four millionth volume at the SMU libraries.

As a thank you from the Bush Center, students, faculty and staff got a private preview of the Bush Museum April 29, in advance of the public opening May 1. Admission remains free to students, faculty and staff.

"The museum gave you a good sense of the enormity of the presidency," said one staff member, "while letting you see the likable family man who tackled it for eight years."

UNBRIDLED LEARNING

STUDENT QUALITY

SMU's student quality is a defining feature of its rise as a great university. In 2012–13 SMU continued to draw top students through its investment in merit-based scholarships, as well as by offering numerous opportunities for study abroad and programs enabling undergraduates to conduct research and benefit from independent projects, among other initiatives. Through rising SAT scores, national fellowships, leadership and engagement in social issues, SMU students are demonstrating the University's effectiveness in shaping world changers.

SCHOLARSHIPS SUPPORT STUDENT QUALITY

Merit-based scholarships are a crucial component of the University's commitment to attract and retain top students. These resources are supporting SMU's increase in student quality. (Left) President's Scholar Rahfin Faruk '14 is majoring in economics, political science and public policy and minoring in religious studies and mathematics. He has served as editor-in-chief of The Daily Campus student newspaper and is a student representative on the SMU Board of Trustees Committee on Academic Policy.

SMU APPLICATIONS set RECORD

SMU received a record number of applications to join the first-year class entering in fall 2012, reflecting the University's growing reputation as well as enhanced national outreach. The 13,601 applications topped the record of 12,961 the previous year by 4.9 percent. In 2012 men in the first-year class outnumbered women slightly – 51 percent to 49 percent. Students from outside Texas accounted for 55.6 percent of new first-year students. Minority students represented 26.9 percent, a slight increase over the previous record of 26.6 percent in 2011.

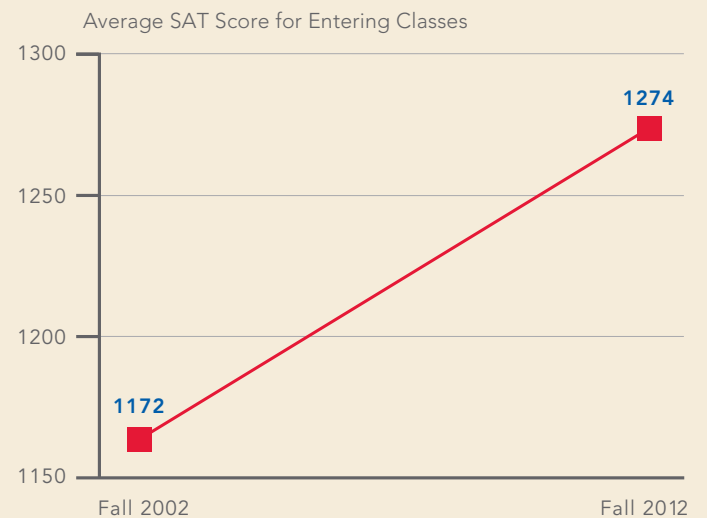

STUDENT BODY PROFILE

A total of 10,893 students were enrolled in fall 2012, including 6,249 undergraduate students and 4,644 graduate students. In fall 2012, approximately 52 percent of the SMU student body came from Texas, with the remainder from all 50 states and 90 foreign countries. Minority students constituted 24.7 percent of the overall student population.

STUDENT ACADEMIC QUALITY REFLECTED IN RECORD SAT SCORES

The average SAT score of first-year students entering in fall 2012 set a new record, as SMU continued to advance toward an overall average SAT goal of 1300. The average score of 1274 represented a 26-point rise over the previous year and an increase of 102 points in the last decade. At the same time as SAT scores have increased, SMU has continued to attract a student body that features greater ethnic, geographic and socio-economic diversity.

RISING TEST SCORES

ENGAGED LEARNING INITIATIVE supports STUDENT PROJECTS

More than three dozen students from throughout SMU launched special projects of their own design in research, civic engagement, creative work or through internships as part of the 2012–13 SMU Engaged Learning initiative's Unbridled Projects. Participants create a detailed proposal, can apply for a grant to cover project costs, receive supervision from a faculty member and must deliver a public presentation and provide a written report. More than 70 students also received approval for projects to be presented in the coming year through this growing program. Examples in 2012–13 included:

HEALTH, TRADITION AND THE MAYA

Kimberly Mendoza '13 researched health-related traditions, beliefs and practices in the indigenous Mayan community in Guatemala during summer 2012. The double major in biological sciences and chemistry in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences was seeking to understand how medical professionals can relate better to those who hold different beliefs about the causes and treatments of disease.

ORIGINS OF THE EURO DEBT CRISIS

Jean Paul Destarac '13, an economics major in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences, conducted a detailed analysis of the history of the euro and the various proposals that have been advanced to fix the current debt crisis in Europe. In addition to standard sources such as research articles, books and online publications, the analysis included perspectives gleaned from interviews with European financial experts conducted during a research trip in Brussels in summer 2012.

GIRLS ACROSS THE MILES

Janielle Kastner '12 and Afomia Hailemeskel '13 (above) produced a multimedia art installation consisting of audio footage and photography that explored the contrasting experiences of teenage girls from two diverse communities: the Bronx, New York, and Highland Park, Texas. The project was presented in Meadows School of the Arts' Doolin Gallery. Kastner double majored in theatre studies in Meadows School of the Arts and English in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences. Hailemeskel majored in theatre studies in Meadows School of the Arts.

SMU DEBATERS TAKE PRIZES IN NATIONAL TOURNAMENT

Basma Raza '14 and Alex Zier '14, both majors in the Division of Communication Studies in Meadows School of the Arts, and Lila Friedlander '15, an economics major in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences, took first-place honors in the novice division of the Mid-America National Junior Division Debate Tournament of the Cross Examination Debate Association (CEDA), in March. In addition, Raza was named top speaker for the tournament. The SMU students dominated the competition with a combined record of 10 wins and only two losses. It was the best finish for an SMU team in the four years it has competed in the event. Held annually in Kansas City, the Mid-America CEDA Tournament is the oldest and most prestigious novice and junior varsity national tournament in the nation. (L-R) Basma Raza '14 and Alex Zier '14 shared honors with a fellow debater and Lila Friedlander '15.

HISTORIC GIFT supports LAW SCHOLARSHIPS

W. Yandell “Tog” Rogers, Jr. ’61 provided a historic commitment of $12.1 million for scholarship support to Dedman School of Law, SMU announced in November. The W. Yandell “Tog” Rogers, Jr. Endowed Scholarship Fund represents the second-largest gift in the history of the Law School, following the Dedman family gift of $20 million that resulted in the naming of the School. (L-R) Brad E. Cheves, SMU vice president for Development and External Affairs; Scott J. McLean ’78, co-chair, The Second Century Campaign Steering Committee for Houston; SMU President R. Gerald Turner; Suzie Rogers; and W. Yandell “Tog” Rogers, Jr. ’61.

PROGRAMS featuring travel STRENGTHEN LEARNING and SUPPORT STUDENT RECRUITMENT

Special programs that feature travel to locales within and outside the United States encourage community engagement and promote creative problem-solving and professional development. These programs represent a crucial component of the SMU educational experience and also are central to the University’s ongoing initiatives to recruit top students. Here are a few examples from 2012–13:

- SMU’s Annual Civil Rights Pilgrimage took students on a nine-day bus ride during spring break to visit landmarks of the Civil Rights Movement. The group’s stops included Little Rock Central High School in Arkansas, where in 1957 nine African-American students faced anti-integration protesters; the Edmund Pettus Bridge in Selma, Alabama; Montgomery’s Dexter Avenue Baptist Church (left), where the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., served as pastor; Tuskegee University; the University of Mississippi campus in Oxford; and the Lorraine Motel in Memphis, where Dr. King was assassinated. Dennis Simon, Altshuler Distinguished Teaching Professor and associate professor of political science in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences, led the pilgrimage, along with representatives from the SMU Chaplain’s Office.
- As part of the University Honors Program seminar, “Law, Politics and the Supreme Court,” 13 students spent six days over spring break in the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C., conducting research on former Supreme Court Justices. The students developed independent research projects on topics such as student rights, libel and national security. Joseph F. Kobyłka, Altshuler Distinguished Teaching Professor and associate professor of political science, led the trip, which was supported by the Richter Foundation and the University Honors Program.

- Six SMU students joined 1,000 others from across the country at the sixth annual Clinton Global Initiative University Network meeting at Washington University in St. Louis in April. SMU has joined Brown, Cornell, Ohio State and other institutions as one of 23 members of the network, a consortium of colleges and universities that support, mentor and provide seed funding to student innovators and entrepreneurs on their respective campuses. Students and university representatives come together at the network's meeting to hear from experts in various fields, brainstorm ideas, share best practices and form effective partnerships. (Above) Rahfin Faruk '14 (seated) meets with Chelsea Clinton.
- Twenty-one students from the Divisions of Communication Studies and Journalism traveled to Washington, D.C., in January, where they participated in presidential inauguration events and worked as journalists and communicators as part of Meadows School of the Arts' Hilltop on the Hill program. During their four-day trip, the students volunteered at Texas State Society's Black Tie & Boots Inaugural Ball, visited media and government sites, and met with policy analysts, political communicators and journalists, in addition to SMU alumni. They submitted stories, blogs, photos, videos and Skype reports for smudailycampus.com and SMU Adventures and also Tweeted about their experiences. The trip was led by Rita Kirk, professor of communication studies and director of the Cary M. Maguire Center for Ethics and Public Responsibility.

- Through the SMU Alternative Break program, students chose from a range of opportunities to perform service in communities in need domestically and internationally. In 2012–13 the volunteers tackled real-world issues, including rural education, urban hunger, disaster relief, AIDS and the environment. The program is based on the principle of active citizenship that strives to create sustainable change and fight social injustice in all communities.

- Nine students traveled to Jamaica in January as part of Assessing Geological Hazards in Jamaica, a multidisciplinary Earth Sciences course to conduct geophysical research on earthquake risks on the Caribbean island. During the J-Term course (short for January term, which features classes over the holiday break), the students collected and analyzed geophysical data on land and at sea and presented their findings to Jamaica's Office of Disaster Preparedness and Emergency Management. Taught by SMU Earth Sciences Associate Professor Matt Hornbach and Lyndon Brown of the University of the West Indies, the course is funded in part by the Society of Exploration Geophysicists' program, Geoscientists Without Borders and the Institute for the Study of Earth and Man (ISEM) in SMU's Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences.

SCHOLARSHIP GIFTS HELP SMU ATTRACT BROAD RANGE OF STUDENTS

Thousands of alumni, parents and friends have chosen to support SMU students by funding scholarships and fellowships in a variety of ways. Many of these gifts will provide scholarship income to SMU in perpetuity through endowment while others make scholarships possible with multiyear commitments of annual gifts. All are important in making the SMU experience affordable for the broadest range of students while continuing to attract bright, motivated students, both as undergraduate and graduate students. As an example of these gifts during the course of The Second Century Campaign, Doyle Glass '84, '88 and his wife, Kim, have funded scholarships for student-athletes, Hispanic students and those interested in studying humanities and sciences in Dedman College. Having also chosen to establish an endowed Meadows Scholarship in 2013, the Glasses continue to invest in the success of SMU students for generations to come.

GIFT creates TRANSFER SCHOLARSHIP ENDOWMENT

Lawrence Rex Kurzius '96 and Tina M. Kurzius established a scholarship endowment fund for students who transfer to the Hilltop, SMU announced in January. The Rex Kurzius Community College Transfer Endowed Scholarship Fund was born of Kurzius' own experience as a transfer student who received scholarship support that enabled him to attend and graduate from SMU. The $100,000 endowment will pave the way for future transfer students to follow the same path. (L-R) Lawrence Rex Kurzius, Tina M. Kurzius and family with SMU President R. Gerald Turner and SMU Provost Paul W. Ludden.

STUDENTS earn AWARDS, HONORS

SMU is committed to shaping the world changers of tomorrow. SMU students excel in every field of endeavor and receive a range of prestigious national awards and scholarships. Examples in 2012–13 included:

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION'S RESEARCH EXPERIENCE FOR UNDERGRADUATES GRANT

Jewel Lipps '14 was awarded a grant through the National Science Foundation's Research Experience for Undergraduates (REU) program. The grant enabled Lipps, a double major in environmental science and chemistry in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences, to work and study during the summer with nine other undergraduate students in a hands-on, field-oriented research program centered on forest lakes in the Kittatinny Mountains of northwest New Jersey.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION'S GRADUATE RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP

Matthew Nicola Rispoli '12, '13 received a fellowship from the National Science Foundation's Graduate Research Fellowship Program. He was recognized for his analysis of data produced during research on the Higgs boson at CERN, the European Organization for Nuclear Research, and for his electrical engineering research with antenna simulations for radio telescopes. Rispoli graduated from SMU with degrees in physics and math from Dedman College and electrical engineering from Bobby B. Lyle School of Engineering and his M.S. degree from the Lyle School. He began working toward his Ph.D. in condensed matter physics at Harvard University in fall 2013.

GOLDWATER SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

Eric Alt '13 received a Barry M. Goldwater Scholarship, the nation's premier academic scholarship recognizing excellence in mathematics, science or engineering. Alt, who double majored in chemistry in Dedman College and mechanical engineering in the Lyle School, contributed to research with Professor Dieter Cremer's Computational and Theoretical Chemistry Group. He plans to pursue a research career in chemistry. Janice Kim '14, a biological sciences major in Dedman College, received a Goldwater honorable mention. She has worked as a researcher in SMU's molecular virology lab and plans to pursue a career in medical research.

FULBRIGHT ENGLISH TEACHING ASSISTANTSHIP AWARD

Hanna Kim '13 was awarded a Fulbright English Teaching Assistantship, which places a Fulbright student in a classroom abroad to provide assistance to teachers of English to non-native English-speakers, while also serving as a cultural ambassador for the U.S. Kim double majored in political science in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences and marketing in Cox School of Business.

CIBA TRAVEL AWARD IN GREEN CHEMISTRY

Shannon R. Woodruff, a Ph.D. candidate in chemistry in Dedman College, was one of four national recipients of the Ciba Travel Award in Green Chemistry, presented annually by the American Chemical Society in recognition of research or educational interest in green chemistry. Green chemistry seeks to design chemical products and processes that reduce or eliminate the use and generation of hazardous substances. Woodruff's research focuses on the synthesis of polymers with controlled molecular weight and architecture for use in biomedical applications. The award enabled Woodruff to attend the 245th National Meeting of the American Chemical Society in New Orleans in spring 2012, where he made a presentation about his research.

AMERICAN ADVERTISING FEDERATION AWARDS

Three students from the Temerlin Advertising Institute in Meadows School of the Arts won national American Advertising Federation ADDY Awards in the college-level competition for their work on Seagate and Crayola campaigns. (L-R) Nicole Hodges '13 and graduate students Julia Kilgore Heath and Alex Jarzemsky collaborated on the Crayola campaign. Heath and Jarzemsky also worked together on the Seagate project. SMU students also won two second-place and three third-place awards. The ADDY Awards is the world's largest advertising competition, receiving more than 50,000 entries annually.

FIRST ENDOWED CENTENNIAL SCHOLARSHIP HONORS ALUM'S MEMORY

SMU's first Endowed Centennial Scholarship was established in February in memory of Bill Ware '70 in support of BBA students in the Cox School of Business. The scholarship was created through gifts from the Ware family and dozens of Bill's friends and colleagues. Endowments with the special "Centennial" designation include operating funds to initiate the scholarship or faculty position on an expedited basis while the body of the endowment matures.

CHALLENGE GRANT SUPPORTS ART HISTORY GRADUATE ENDOWMENT

An anonymous $1.125 million matching challenge received in March will support creation of a permanent endowment for Art History graduate study in Meadows School of the Arts. SMU's receipt of the gift is contingent upon additional cash contributions totaling $1.125 million from other donors by December 31, 2013. While Art History is a traditional strength of the Meadows School, the gift in support of graduate study is the most recent mark of progress for a program that has increased in international stature. This gift complements the addition of renowned scholar Roberto Tejada as the first holder of the new Distinguished Endowed Chair of Art History, which was established through the generosity of an anonymous donor, as well as creation of an Art History Ph.D. program. Through the Meadows School's 2020 Initiative, the School aspires to attain a top 20 ranking for the new doctoral program by 2020, the year of the National Research Council's next data release.

UNBRIDLED DISCOVERY

FACULTY AND ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

A great university is shaped by scholars who create and share knowledge. Top educational institutions also require buildings with up-to-date classrooms, laboratories and technology that make it possible for faculty members to conduct research, teach and inspire students to learn. In 2012–13 SMU continued to take significant steps to increase faculty and academic quality. These included the creation or enhancement of academic programs, the addition of faculty members and new endowments for faculty positions and the construction or renovation of facilities that support academic achievement.

CENTER FOR PRESIDENTIAL HISTORY COMPLETES FIRST YEAR OF OPERATION

SMU has continued to add centers, institutes and research initiatives, such as the Center for Presidential History (CPH), which completed its first year of operation in 2012–13. Award-winning historian Jeffrey A. Engel (left) is founding director of the CPH and is associate professor in the Clements Department of History in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences. The CPH sponsors public programs, conferences and research, including its Collective Memory Project, conducting interviews with members of presidential administrations.

GLOBAL HEALTH EXPERT joins FACULTY

Global health researcher Eric G. Bing joined the SMU faculty in March in a concurrent appointment with the George W. Bush Institute. Bing was appointed as a tenured professor of global health in the Applied Physiology and Wellness Department in the Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development and in the Department of Anthropology in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences. He has served as senior fellow and director of global health at the Bush Institute since 2010, where he initiated worldwide health initiatives, serving as co-leader of the Institute's Pink Ribbon Red Ribbon partnership to combat cervical and breast cancer internationally.

DATA CENTER CONSTRUCTION BEGINS

Construction began in 2012–13 on SMU's new Data Center located on the former Mrs. Baird's property at Mockingbird Lane and North Central Expressway. The Data Center will be a one-story, 22,000-square-foot facility designed in the University's Collegiate Georgian architectural style. This new facility will provide telecommunications and data storage, serving as an essential resource for University researchers as well as for campus operations. The Data Center is expected to be completed by the end of 2013.

SMU SCHOOLS CONTINUE TO EARN NATIONAL REPUTATION

SMU's schools were nationally recognized for their quality and success in educating tomorrow's leaders during 2012–13. Rankings include those released in summer 2013.

- Cox School of Business ranks No. 18 globally for its Executive MBA program (The Economist), No. 25 for return on investment (Forbes) and No. 7 for its professional MBA program (Bloomberg Businessweek).
- Dedman School of Law is No. 48 among top law schools, based on reputation, selectivity and placement success (U.S. News & World Report).
- SMU Lyle School of Engineering ranks No. 19 among the top 50 colleges and universities nationwide whose graduates earn the highest salaries.

FACULTY MEMBERS earn RECOGNITION and AWARDS

Tom Fomby

Louis L. Jacobs

David Meltzer

Annie Xiang

Brian Zoltowski

Tom Fomby, director of the Richard B. Johnson Center for Economic Studies in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences, and Robert Haley '67, chief of epidemiology and professor of internal medicine at UT Southwestern Medical Center, joined forces with Dallas County health officials on a groundbreaking study of data collected during the nation's largest outbreak of West Nile virus, which occurred in Dallas County in 2012. The interdisciplinary research collaboration revealed several key findings about West Nile outbreaks and pointed to the use of a mosquito vector index rating system to trigger early intervention. Those results were published in the July 2013 JAMA (The Journal of the American Medical Association), the prestigious peer-reviewed medical journal.

Louis L. Jacobs, professor of earth sciences in the Roy M. Huffington Department of Earth Sciences in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences, was selected to receive the 2012 Skoog Cup in November from the Science Teachers Association of Texas (STAT). Jacobs, who also serves as president of SMU's Institute for the Study of Earth and Man, was honored for his significant contributions to advance science education. His dedication to sharing his knowledge and talents as a leading scientist in the field of vertebrate paleontology has earned him the moniker "Indiana Jones" among Texas teachers and students. His research utilizes advanced imaging and stable isotope techniques to investigate paleo-environmental, biogeographic and phylogenetic issues of the Mesozoic and Cenozoic eras. He also co-leads a collaborative international scientific research program focused on the ancient life of Angola.

David Meltzer, Henderson-Morrison Professor of Prehistory in SMU's Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences, was elected as a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in April, joining other renowned leaders in various fields such as John Glenn, Martin Amis, Robert De Niro and Bruce Springsteen. Meltzer is an internationally recognized authority on the origins, antiquity and adaptations of the first Americans – Paleoindians – who colonized the North American continent at the end of the Ice Age. His research has been supported by grants from the National Geographic Society, the National Science Foundation, The Potts and Sibley Foundation and the Smithsonian Institution. Meltzer also was elected to the National Academy of Sciences in 2009.

Annie Xiang, physics research professor in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences, received the U.S. Department of Energy R&D award in August 2012. The award provides $200,000 in funding for her work on the development of small-form-factor, high-reliability optical transmitters for high-bandwidth data transmission in future particle physics experiments. Xiang leads SMU's Versatile Link project team, a collaboration with the European Organization for Nuclear Research (CERN), Fermi National Accelerator Laboratory and Oxford University, focused on upgrading the optical link of the Large Hadron Collider (LHC).

Brian Zoltowski, assistant professor of chemistry in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences, received a $250,000 grant from the Herman Frasch Foundation for Chemical Research in August 2012 for his work on the photoreceptor protein, one of the many proteins involved in an organism's circadian clock. The photoreceptor protein enables plants to know when the spring and fall occur and to produce flowers or fruit at the appropriate time of year. The Frasch Foundation awards grants to nonprofit incorporated institutions to support research in the field of agricultural chemistry that will be of practical benefit to U.S. agricultural development.

SMU LAUNCHES UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM IN PUBLIC RELATIONS AND STRATEGIC COMMUNICATION

A new Bachelor of Arts degree in public relations and strategic communication was launched in fall 2012 in the Division of Communication Studies in Meadows School of the Arts. The interdisciplinary major is designed to prepare students for current industry needs. Students learn to create and manage multimedia communication campaigns in support of the mission, values, brand and strategic objectives of a corporate, political or nonprofit organization, institution or client. While coursework is essential, the program also emphasizes learning through internships and partnerships with industry professionals in advertising, communications and journalism.

PHOTONICS PIONEER
appointed LYLE SCHOOL DEAN

Marc P. Christensen, a nationally recognized leader in photonics – the science and technology of light – was named dean of Bobby B. Lyle School of Engineering in May. A pioneering expert in mapping photonic technology onto a range of applications, Christensen also is a strong proponent of the innovative education style that is the Lyle School’s signature. Christensen had served as interim dean of the Lyle School since July 2012. He also serves as Bobby B. Lyle Professor of Engineering Innovation and as a research professor in the Department of Physics in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences.

SMU RECOGNIZED AS SOURCE OF DALLAS CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

SMU ranked No. 3 in the Dallas Business Journal listing of “CEO-Producing Universities,” based on the number of local CEOs who are graduates of the University. SMU placed behind only The University of Texas and Harvard. SMU had 12 Dallas-area CEOs in the ranking, which was published in January.

SIMMONS SCHOOL RECEIVES SECOND HISTORIC GIFT

Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development received a second historic commitment from Harold C. Simmons and Annette Caldwell Simmons '57 (center) in February. The $25 million gift will fund a new building for the expanding programs of the School and support three new endowed academic positions. The building is to be named Harold Clark Simmons Hall. A gift of $20 million in 2007 from the Simmons family provided funding for a new building, Annette Caldwell Simmons Hall, endowments for graduate fellowships, the deanship and faculty recruitment. (See story on faculty endowments on page 29.)

SMU MARKS the YEAR of the LIBRARY

SMU launched its Year of the Library celebration in spring 2013, commemorating the 100th anniversary of the creation of the University's first library. The yearlong celebration includes programs and exhibitions providing opportunities to discover the rich resources and special collections housed in the nine facilities that constitute the largest private academic library system in the Southwest.

TABLES OF CONTENT DINNER KICKS OFF THE YEAR OF THE LIBRARY

The Year of the Library kicked off with the annual Tables of Content dinner in March. Lee Cullum '61, a journalist and leading commentator on culture and politics, was presented with the Friends of the SMU Libraries' Literati Award.

GIFTS SUPPORTING BRIDWELL AND FONDREN RENOVATIONS HELP COMMEMORATE THE YEAR OF THE LIBRARY

- The Bridwell Foundation pledged $7.5 million for renovations at Perkins School of Theology's Bridwell Library. The renovation will consolidate special collections, enhance study spaces and create an archives processing and digital lab. In addition, it will provide a multipurpose space for instruction, study and lectures.
- The Fondren Foundation pledged $1 million to name the Fondren Centennial Reading Room, redesigned as part of a planned renovation of Fondren Library Center. The Fondren Library Center renovation will update the facility as a center of interactive technology and a vital campus gathering place. The project also will bring together the many special collections currently distributed throughout the Fondren Library complex in a redesigned Special Collections Research Center.

DEGOLYER RECEIVES SMU'S FOUR MILLIONTH VOLUME

As part of Founders' Day, SMU's Board of Trustees presented DeGolyer Library with a previously unknown volume by American explorer John Maley, detailing his journey through the territory of the Louisiana Purchase, including Texas, during the period from 1808 through 1812. An Account of Four Years Travels, whose purchase was funded by the Second Century Celebration Host Committee and honored President George W. Bush and former First Lady Laura Welch Bush '68, represented the four millionth volume in SMU's libraries.

LYLE SCHOOL AND HART CENTER HOST CONFERENCE ON ENGINEERING LEADERSHIP

The Bobby B. Lyle School of Engineering and its Hart Center for Engineering Leadership hosted a conference in April for administrators and faculty from 17 prestigious universities that are members of COMPLETE (Community of Practice for Leadership Education for Twenty-first Century Engineers). Attendees met over two days to share best practices on training engineering students to be effective leaders and collaborate on developing leadership as a subdiscipline of engineering education. Member universities of COMPLETE include MIT, Georgia Tech and the U.S. Naval Academy.

NEW NATIONAL CENTER for ARTS RESEARCH ASSISTS ARTS ORGANIZATIONS

Meadows School of the Arts and the Cox School of Business launched the National Center for Arts Research (NCAR) in February. The first institution of its kind in the United States, the Center gathers and analyzes data from around the country on topics such as declining audiences and rising production costs and shares its findings with arts leaders nationwide. (Left) Zannie Voss (on right), Professor of Arts Management, Professor of Marketing and Chair of Arts Management and Arts Entrepreneurship at the Cox School and the Meadows School, directs the new Center.

INTERDISCIPLINARY INSTITUTE EVENTS DRAW STUDENTS, FACULTY AND MEMBERS OF THE PUBLIC

Dedman College Interdisciplinary Institute (DCII) sponsored a variety of lectures, seminars and other events in 2012–13, the Institute’s first year of operation. Public symposia focused on topics including the limits of prediction and privacy issues. These public symposia were attended by 100 faculty, students and community members. DCII Fellows Seminars, including one focused on “Medicine and Humanities,” brought together faculty from multiple disciplines for collaborative and interdisciplinary discussions. DCII research clusters on topics such as “Reframing Africa” and “The Future of Humanistic Learning” attracted faculty and students from across campus.

NEW DALLAS MUSEUM BORROWS SMU SPECIMENS, TAPS SMU FACULTY EXPERTISE

Specimens belonging to SMU and technical assistance from University experts have played a vital role in the creation and success of the nation’s new premier science museum, the Perot Museum of Nature and Science in downtown Dallas, which opened December 1. Texas fossils on loan from the Shuler Museum in Dedman College include a 113-million-year-old dinosaur, 110-million-year-old sea turtles and a variety of other specimens. Louis L. Jacobs, professor of paleontology and an internationally recognized vertebrate paleontologist, lent the Perot a life-size model of the 35-foot dinosaur Malawisaurus. Other SMU faculty members are serving as curators or advisors. Also featured at the museum is a small-scale, autonomous, unmanned fire-fighting helicopter built by students in the Innovation Gymnasium in the Bobby B. Lyle School of Engineering.

GIFTS ESTABLISH new FACULTY ENDOWMENTS

New endowments for faculty positions enable SMU to attract and retain experts with national and international reputations in a variety of disciplines and add to the University's overall academic quality. In 2012–13 SMU received commitments for the establishment of nine substantially endowed faculty positions. With these additions, positions totaled 94, en route to a goal of 100. The new endowments are listed below:

- A $2 million gift from SMU Trustee Sarah Fullinwider Perot '83 and former Trustee Ross Perot, Jr., established the Leah Young Fullinwider Centennial Chair in Music Performance in Meadows School of the Arts. (Photo right, L-R) José Antonio Bowen, Meadows School dean; Ross Perot, Jr.; Sarah Fullinwider Perot; Leah Young Fullinwider; Jerome A. Fullinwider '51; and SMU President R. Gerald Turner, with the certificate commemorating the endowment.
- A $1.5 million gift from the Kleinheinz Family Endowment for the Arts and Education established the Kleinheinz Family Endowment for the Arts and Education Endowed Chair in Art History in Meadows School of the Arts.
- A $1.25 million gift from the Vin and Caren Prothro Foundation established the Ruth and Kenneth Altshuler Centennial Interdisciplinary Professor in Cities, Regions and Globalization in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences.
- A $1 million gift from former Trustee Linda Pitts Custard '60, '99 and William A. Custard '57 established the Linda P. and William A. Custard Director of the Meadows Museum and Centennial Chair in the Meadows School of the Arts. A $1 million gift from the Meadows Foundation added to the endowment of the position.

- A $1 million gift from SMU Trustee and former Board Chair Ruth Collins Sharp Altshuler '48 established the Ruth Collins Altshuler Endowed Professor and Director of the Interdisciplinary Institute.
- A $1 million gift from Les Ware '89, '92 and Amy Abboud Ware '87, '90 established an endowed professorship in Dedman School of Law.
- A $25 million gift from Harold C. Simmons and Annette Caldwell Simmons '57 includes funding for two endowed Centennial Chairs and an endowed professorship in Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development. (See Simmons gift story on page 26.)

GRADUATE PROGRAM IN SPORT MANAGEMENT COMBINES MULTIPLE DISCIPLINES

SMU launched North Texas' first interdisciplinary graduate program in sport management in spring 2013. The M.S. in sport management program is directed jointly by faculty from Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development and Cox School of Business. The program combines finance, economics, management strategies, sports marketing, facility and event management, sports law, ethics and sports communication. The degree is designed to help graduates advance their careers or find new opportunities in the sports industry in fields ranging from promotion to product marketing and management.

MEADOWS MUSEUM RENEWS HISTORIC COLLABORATION WITH SPAIN'S PRADO

The Meadows Museum in July 2012 extended for two more years its historic partnership with the Museo Nacional del Prado in Madrid. The extension builds upon the success of the collaboration, which features the loan of major paintings from the Prado. Artworks loaned thus far have included El Greco's Pentecost (left), Jusepe de Ribera's Mary Magdalene, Diego Velázquez's full-length portrait of Philip IV and landscape monographs by Martín Rico. The partnership also includes interdisciplinary research at SMU, an internship exchange between the two museums and a range of public programs. Planned for summer 2014 is an exhibition featuring Spanish drawings from the Kunsthalle of Hamburg, Germany, to be exhibited first at the Meadows and later at the Prado.

UNBRIDLED ACHIEVEMENT

CAMPUS EXPERIENCE

The campus experience is a major strength of an SMU education, supporting academic endeavors and fostering a sense of community and pride. Campus activities provide opportunities for students to develop leadership skills, serve the community, encounter a diversity of perspectives and develop as responsible citizens. In 2012–13 SMU offered a broad range of extracurricular programs and added new facilities to enhance the unique campus that is a special part of the SMU experience.

NEW STUDENT LIVING-AND-LEARNING MODEL INCLUDES FACULTY IN RESIDENCE

SMU's new Residential Commons concept embodies a new model in student living and learning that will enrich the campus experience. The new model, which is being incorporated into residence halls campuswide, provides an integrated academic and residential experience that includes faculty in residence, who have offices and teach classes in the halls.

FORMER U.S. SENATOR addresses GRADUATES

Former U.S. Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison delivered the address and received an honorary degree at SMU's 98th Commencement ceremony in May. Hutchison spoke about entrepreneurial spirit and a "can-do" attitude as important legacies from the graduates' time at the University. SMU President R. Gerald Turner conferred approximately 1,500 undergraduate and graduate degrees upon students from all of the University's schools and professional programs. Commencement was staged in front of SMU's first building – Dallas Hall – on the historic Main Quad.

SMU-IN-PLANO MEDIATION CLINIC SERVES PUBLIC WHILE TRAINING STUDENTS

The Mediation and Conflict Resolution Services Clinic at SMU-in-Plano mediated more than 100 cases in 2012–13. The clinic is a distinguishing feature of the Department of Dispute Resolution and Counseling in Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development, offering conflict resolution services to the community while providing students and alumni with real-world practice in mediation, facilitation, conflict coaching and arbitration. Experienced mediators volunteer their time to work on cases and mentor student mediators. SMU Mediation and Conflict Resolution Services staff include (L-R): Lisa Langford, program coordinator; Thomas J. Hartsell, clinical professor and associate director of Dispute Resolution; and Dana Vaden, program specialist.

SMU SPIRIT HIGHLIGHTS COMMUNITY CONNECTION

SMU's connection to the Dallas community was highlighted in 2012–13 by the University's presence in the Park Cities Fourth of July Parade and the annual holiday exhibition at NorthPark Center. An SMU spirit float was part of the Fourth of July parade, a decades-long tradition organized by Rotary Club of Park Cities. The annual Trains at NorthPark, a holiday display that is the most elaborate toy train exhibit in Texas, featured a model of iconic Dallas Hall. It joined a Dallas cityscape that included the downtown skyline, the new Margaret Hunt Hill Bridge, the State Fair of Texas and the Cotton Bowl. Dallas Hall's presence in the exhibit was made possible by the SMU Centennial Host Committee. (Above) SMU Alumni Board Chair Bill Vanderstraaten '82 and Chair-elect Leslie Long Melson '77 (both at Colonial Peruna's right), flanked by Mustang Band members, Peruna handlers and "Colonial Peruna" at the Park Cities Fourth of July Parade.

CONSTRUCTION TRANSFORMING HILLTOP

In 2012–13 SMU made major progress on a number of construction projects that will transform campus life. The addition or enhancement of these key facilities will help meet the needs and expectations of new generations of students pursuing academic achievement and personal growth. They include:

- Residential Commons concept – Construction continued on the new Residential Commons Complex, as well as on residence halls throughout campus, all reflective of a new campus living-and-learning model that is transforming student housing. Under the new model, residence halls bring together live-in faculty and staff members, resident assistants and other student leaders to create an integrated academic and residential experience. The Residential Commons Complex, slated for completion in 2014, also will provide housing for an additional 1,250 students.
- Moody Coliseum – The expansion and renovation of the iconic building adds new and improved features to the facility that houses both athletics and community events, as well as SMU Commencement. It includes the new Carolyn and David Miller Event Center, new premium suites and loge boxes, new seats throughout the building, new video technology and expanded concourses. The project is slated for completion in December 2013.
- Mustang Band Hall – Construction began on a new practice facility and home for the Mustang Band in Dedman Center for Lifetime Sports. Features include nearly five times the current band hall space, a rehearsal hall to accommodate a 150-member band and practice rooms for ensemble and individual use.
- SMU Tennis Complex – Construction began on the new facility, to be located prominently on the south side of Mockingbird Lane at the corner of North Central Expressway. Features include indoor and outdoor courts, a training center and enhanced patron accommodations.
- Dr. Bob Smith Health Center – Planning continued for construction of a new health center to replace SMU’s current facility.
- Fondren Library Center – (See page 27 for details.)
- Bridwell Library – (See page 27 for details.)

MUSTANG TEAMS GALLOP TO CHAMPIONSHIPS

The Mustang football team defeated the Fresno State Bulldogs, 43-10, in the 2012 Hawaii Bowl in Honolulu in December – the fourth straight postseason bowl appearance by the team. Four Mustang teams won Conference USA championships in 2012–13: cross country, men’s soccer, women’s basketball and men’s swimming and diving. Five other Mustang teams advanced to postseason play, including women’s swimming and diving, equestrian, men’s and women’s golf and women’s outdoor track and field.

TEDxSMU HILLTOP TAPS UNIVERSITY TALENT

Bobby B. Lyle School of Engineering and Meadows School of the Arts joined to present talks and performances that tapped the talents of the SMU community at the first TEDxSMU Hilltop gathering in September. The free half-day conference, held in the Bob Hope Theatre, featured presentations from SMU students, faculty members, staff members and alumni. Topics ranged from “Particle Physics: New World Waits for Discovery” to “A New Way of Looking at Music.” (Left) Carl Dorvil ’08, founder of Group Excellence, which provides mentoring for thousands of struggling learners, spoke on “The Four Ps of Success.”

NEW ATHLETICS DIRECTOR NAMED

Rick Hart, who served six years as athletics director at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, was named director of athletics at SMU in July 2012. Hart arrived on the Hilltop with a reputation as a model administrator focused on athletic success, fiscal stewardship and a commitment to ensuring the academic success of student-athletes. During his tenure at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, student-athletes showed continuous improvement in overall grade point averages, and more than half made the Athletic Director's Honor Roll in each of Hart's last six semesters.

TATE LECTURE SERIES BRINGS LEADERS, ARTISTS, ENTERTAINERS TO THE HILLTOP

In its 32nd season, the Tate Lecture Series brought distinguished leaders from various fields to share their unique perspectives with SMU students and the Dallas community. The series was selected by D Magazine readers as the Best Conversation Series in Dallas for 2012 and 2013. It raises more than $800,000 annually for the President's Scholars Program, the University's most prestigious merit-based scholarship award. During the 2012–2013 season, the series featured journalists David Gergen and Sanjay Gupta, entertainer Regis Philbin, gaming designer Jane McGonigal and historians Niall Ferguson, Michael Beschloss and Douglas Brinkley. (Above) Amie Kromis '13 (left) moderates a student forum with Tate lecturer Jane McGonigal.

SUPREME COURT JUSTICE PARTNERS WITH SMU LAW PROFESSOR ON BOOK AND LECTURE

Antonin Scalia, associate justice of the Supreme Court (above), and Bryan A. Garner, distinguished research professor of law in Dedman School of Law, collaborated to write Reading Law: The Interpretation of Legal Texts (Thomson Reuters). The authors appeared together to discuss the book at a lecture at McFarlin Auditorium in January. Five Dedman Law students served as researchers for the book.

ATHLETES EXCEL in the CLASSROOM

In addition to receiving recognition for their accomplishments in athletics, SMU student-athletes were honored for their academic achievement. Alisha Filmore '13 (women's basketball) and Mindaugas Sadaukas '13 (men's swimming) were named Mustang Student-Athletes of the Year. Twenty-nine Mustang student-athletes received the Conference USA Commissioner's Academic Medal, awarded to those who achieve at least a 3.75 cumulative grade point average during the academic year. Additionally, 186 student-athletes were named to the C-USA Commissioner's Honor Roll for maintaining a 3.0 cumulative grade point average or higher.

PERKINS COMMUNITY EVENTS FOCUS ON FAITH AND LIFE

As part of its community service mission, Perkins School of Theology hosted several public events in 2012–13 focusing on the intersection of faith and life. The School continued its tradition of hosting two Faith and Business Luncheons each semester, which provide an opportunity for Dallas business executives to explore how faith and business shape and inform one another. Featured speakers included Craig Watkins, Dallas County district attorney; Mike Ullman, chairman and CEO of JCPenney; Jim Sundberg, senior executive vice president of Texas Rangers Baseball; and Anousheh Ansari, the first female private space explorer. The Bolin Family Public Life/Personal Faith Symposium and Lecture, held in February, featured a presentation by Jon Meacham, Pulitzer Prize-winning author and contributing editor at TIME (left), and focused on his book American Gospel: God, the Founding Fathers, and the Making of a Nation.

SMU JOINS AMERICAN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

SMU looked forward to becoming a founding member of the American Athletic Conference (AAC), to be formed in July 2013. SMU anticipates that membership in the conference will bring increased national visibility for Mustang teams and a higher profile for the University. Competition kicks off in fall 2013. Beginning with the 2014–15 academic year, the AAC will consist of SMU, the University of Central Florida, the University of Cincinnati, the University of Connecticut, East Carolina University, the University of Houston, the University of Memphis, the University of South Florida, Temple University, Tulane University and the University of Tulsa. The U.S. Naval Academy will join as a football-only member in 2015.

SMU HONORS DISTINGUISHED GRADUATES

Four philanthropic, civic and business leaders received SMU's 2012 Distinguished Alumni Awards (DAA) in a ceremony on the University's Main Quad in October. The DAA is the highest honor the University bestows upon its graduates. Recipients included (L-R) entrepreneur Paul B. Loyd, Jr. '68; philanthropic leader Jeanne Tower Cox '78; and former University Park Mayor James H. "Blackie" Holmes, III '57, '59. Medical physicist Alonso Gutiérrez '03 received the University's Emerging Leader Award, which recognizes an outstanding alumnus or alumna who has graduated within the last 15 years. Past DAA recipients also were honored as History Makers as part of SMU's ongoing centennial commemoration.

FORMER SECRETARY of STATE awarded MEDAL of FREEDOM

Former Secretary of State James A. Baker, III, received the Medal of Freedom from SMU's John Goodwin Tower Center for Political Studies in October. The Medal is presented every two years to an individual or individuals who have furthered the cause of freedom. Funds raised by the event support the Tower Center, part of Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences. (L-R) Hon. Dan Branch '68, Tower Center chair; Penny Tower Cook '76; Jeanne Tower Cox '78; James A. Baker, III; and SMU President R. Gerald Turner.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL COACH POSTS 400TH VICTORY

Women's basketball head coach Rhonda Rompola earned her 400th win in February, netting more victories than any other head coach of any sport on the Hilltop. The conclusive win came over the University of Tulsa in a game played at Moody Coliseum. Rompola has achieved a 400-258 record in 22 seasons, after serving for eight years as an assistant coach.

MEADOWS MUSEUM EXHIBITIONS FEATURE MASTERWORKS

The Meadows Museum organized special exhibitions that drew thousands of visitors throughout 2012–13. Highlights included:

- Diego Velázquez: The Early Court Portraits, presenting the most important monographic exhibition devoted to Velázquez in the United States in more than two decades. The exhibition explored the development and impact of the artist's work as the court portraitist for King Philip IV (left), one of history's most influential arts patrons and connoisseurs.
- Impressions of Europe: 19th-century Vistas by Martín Rico, a retrospective of one of Spain's greatest landscape masters that featured 106 of Rico's pieces depicting urban and natural landscapes of Switzerland, France, Germany, Italy and his native Spain.
- Modern Mexican Painting from the Andrés Blaisten Collection, featuring a selection of 80 paintings from Blaisten's collection of more than 8,000 works. The pieces chosen for this exhibition showed the social, political and artistic influences that shaped Mexico from the early- to mid-20th century.
- The Collection of Calloway and Jerry Bywaters Cochran: In Honor of a Lone Star Legend and The Frances Golden Ware Gift: Landscapes of the Southwest, featuring works donated to SMU by Calloway and Jerry Bywaters Cochran, daughter of renowned Texas artist Jerry Bywaters. The joint exhibition also highlighted paintings from the family of Frances Golden Ware, including oil paintings from Texas artists Julian Onderdonk and Elmer Page Turner.

Cash Birdwell

Russell Carter '83

Lars Frölander '98

Rick Herrscher '58

Lance McIlhenny '83

Earl Stewart

A coach, a trainer and four athletes were inducted as the newest members of the SMU Athletics Hall of Fame in May. Inductees were:

- Cash Birdwell, Mustang athletic trainer in 1968 and in 1973 through 2005, won College Athletic Trainer of the Year in 1978 and served as a trainer for the NFL's Los Angeles Rams in 1969–72.
- Russell Carter '83 was an All-American track athlete on the indoor mile relay team and the outdoor 1,600-meter relay team in 1983. Also part of the Mustang football teams that won NCAA National Championships in 1981 and 1982, he was drafted by the NFL's New York Jets in the first round.
- Lars Frölander '98 was the 1998 NCAA Swimmer of the Year, winning national championships in the 100-meter butterfly in 1995 and 1997 and the 100-meter butterfly in 1997 and 1998. He represented his native Sweden in six Olympic Games, winning a gold medal and two silver medals.
- Rick Herrscher '58 was a member of the 1956 Mustang basketball team that reached the NCAA Final Four and was named Southwest Conference Player of the Year for 1957–58. Herrscher also spent the 1962 baseball season as an infielder for the New York Mets.
- Lance McIlhenny '83 finished his Mustang career as the most successful quarterback in the history of the Southwest Conference, posting a career record of 34-5-1. He led the Mustangs to two NCAA-recognized national championships and two SWC Championships in 1981 and 1982.
- Earl Stewart, women's golf coach from 1975 through 1987, guided the Mustangs to an Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) national championship in 1979 and a Southwest Conference championship in 1986. He was named to the National Golf Coaches Association Hall of Fame in 1987.

FOUR MUSTANG TEAMS ACHIEVE 100 PERCENT GRADUATION RATE

Four SMU teams – men's and women's tennis, women's soccer and women's track – received perfect 100 percent graduation ratings in the NCAA Graduation Success Rate report released in October. All 15 of SMU's athletic programs were rated equal to or better than the national average in rates of graduation.

MUSTANG DEFENSEMAN CHOSEN EARLY IN NFL DRAFT

Margus Hunt '13, the Mustangs football team's defensive end, was selected by the Cincinnati Bengals in the second round of the NFL draft, No. 53 overall. Hunt's selection was the highest for an SMU player since 1986. Five other players from the 2012 SMU roster were selected to participate as free agents at various NFL training camps during summer 2013.

UNBRIDLED PROGRESS

FINANCIAL REPORT

SMU remains on sound financial footing and presents financial information for the fiscal year June 1, 2012, through May 31, 2013. The University is committed to the prudent management of gifts and other financial resources that support student and faculty achievement, academic programs and SMU's enriching campus life.

EXPENDITURES TOWARD STRATEGIC GOALS

During the past decade, SMU has increased annual expenditures for scholarships, faculty and academic achievement in support of goals identified in the University's strategic plan.

STUDENT SUPPORT

FACULTY SUPPORT

Annual University expenditures for academic instruction

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Annual University expenditures for academic support, including library, advising and technology resources

ENDOWMENT REPORT

SMU’s endowment ended the fiscal year on May 31, 2013, with a market value of $1.268 billion, representing an increase of $105.7 million compared to the market value on May 31, 2012. Endowment gifts totaled $36.2 million for the one-year period, while endowment distributions of $54.7 million provided substantial support to University operations and accounted for 16 percent of the operating revenue budget. This spending support funded many restricted and unrestricted purposes, including scholarships, faculty support, educational programs and libraries.

We are pleased to report a total return of 11.3 percent for the one-year period ending May 31, 2013. Global equity and diversifying strategies performed well and contributed substantially to the increase in valuation. The environment for private investments was more challenging, particularly outside of the U.S., and the private portfolio generated lower returns. The beginning of 2013 experienced greater market stability and a somewhat more favorable environment for developed equities. Concerns about the sustainability of the current U.S. equity bull market, an increase in interest rates, and geopolitical events around the world contribute to an investment environment that is challenging and demanding.

SMU benefits from the generosity of its donors – past and present students, parents, faculty and staff, and friends of the University. We will continue to maintain a disciplined focus on investment strategies and opportunities designed to grow the portfolio over the long term, while achieving an appropriate level of risk and diversification. Meeting those goals will enable the endowment to support SMU into its second century.

CAMPAIGN UPDATE

The Second Century Campaign continued to support SMU’s extraordinary progress, enabling the University to move forward on achieving the goals of enhancing student quality, academic excellence and the campus experience. By May 31, the end of the fiscal year, the campaign had generated more than $732 million in commitments, including more than $95 million in commitments received in 2012–13. That compares to $542 million raised during the entirety of the last campaign, A Time to Lead.

CAMPAIGN STATISTICS (as of May 31, 2013)

- Endowed funding to support 374 new scholarships
- 32 new endowed faculty positions for a total of 94
- 20 endowed schools, centers, institutes, academic and research programs
- 120 leadership donors who have provided gifts totaling $1 million or more each
- 375 volunteers representing eight academic and three universitywide programs and 10 national and 21 international campaign cities

The Second Century Campaign runs through 2015 to align with The Second Century Celebration, which marks the centennials of SMU’s founding in 1911 and opening in 1915.

YEARLY GIVING

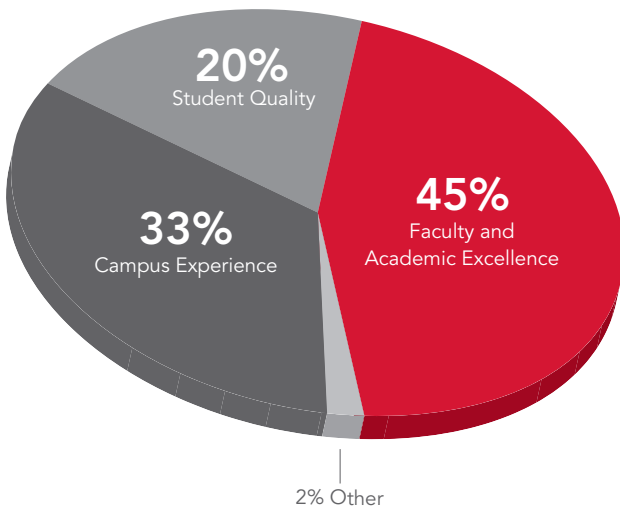

The strong support from alumni, parents, friends and organizations for SMU continued in 2012–13 (FY13). This support, inspired in large part by The Second Century Campaign, is contributing to the University’s momentum and enabling SMU to lay the foundation for an exciting future. Highlights of the fiscal year include:

- A total of more than $95.6 million in cash contributions were received during the year.
- 133 new scholarship endowments were established, enhancing recruitment and retention opportunities for students.
- 9 new faculty position endowments were established, bringing the number of substantially endowed faculty positions to 94, toward a campaign goal of 100.
- For the fourth consecutive year, SMU Athletics set new annual giving records, including $8.37 million.
- Annual giving by alumni reached 24 percent for the year, and 28.6 percent of alumni celebrating reunions made a gift.
- 2,735 households made contributions totaling $1,000 or more and are recognized as President’s Associates.
- 13,111 households made gifts and pledge payments to SMU in at least two consecutive years, and 2,346 households have contributed consecutively for at least 10 years. All are recognized in the Hilltop Society.
- 57.4 percent of faculty and staff (1,243 individuals) contributed to the campaign during the fiscal year.
- 635 students made a gift during FY13.
- 50.3 percent of alumni have made at least one gift thus far in the campaign.
- 1,652 volunteers led and supported alumni activities around the world, and 64 percent of these volunteers made a gift to SMU.
