

Sam Loughry

Sam Loughry is a partner in the Audit Practice of Deloitte & Touche LLP in Dallas and serves as the Subject Matter Resource Leader for Accounting for Income Taxes. Sam has over 15 years of experience providing audit and consultation services to a number of the firm's most prominent clients in the region, including BNSF Railway, Dr Pepper Snapple Group, Dean Foods and Baker Hughes. Sam has assisted these clients and others with acquisitions and divestitures, exit plans and restructurings, SEC filings, initial and secondary offerings of securities, and unregistered offerings.

Sam rejoined the Dallas practice in July 2009 from the Deloitte's National Office Accounting Services Group. While in the National Office, Sam was responsible for developing and communicating the firm's guidance on new and existing technical accounting matters, including disclosure and reporting issues. Sam also provided consultation and support to some of the firm's largest and most sophisticated clients, including General Motors, KKR, Met Life, and Pfizer. His areas of focus include fair value measurements, business combinations and income taxes. Sam is a frequent speaker at national seminars on these topics and other emerging technical accounting issues.

Sam graduated from Stephen F. Austin State University with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration. He is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the State Society of Certified Public Accountants in Texas and Connecticut.
