IMPORTANT INFO FOR YOUR REVIEW - Please be sure to read the attached letter to DASS students. It will also be attached to the batches of accommodation letters you request and pick up in Candy's office. It's not for faculty but for students, so be sure to read it carefully!

HOW TO PREPARE FOR PSYCH 1300- gathered from a past student who turned her grade around with the following strategies. These are the kinds of strategies you can learn from meeting with a study skills consultant or academic coach at the LEC:

I did all of the Multiple Choice Questions online for the class and studied definitions.

I rewrote all of my notes after class and reviewed them.

I spaced my study sessions, studying one hour at a time.

I only took notes of bolded terms and wrote those down.

Looking for a new notebook system?

Check out the Arc Customizable Notebooks at Staples. It's kind of the professional version of a Trapper Keeper. Very versatile and affordable.

Two Great Opportunities - Don't Miss Out!

Google Lime 2013 Scholarship for Students with Disabilities - Winners will receive a $10,000 scholarship, consideration for an internship at Google, and an invitation to the annual all-expense paid Scholars Retreat at the Googleplex. Deadline to apply: Monday, February 18th .

2013 Lime Connect Fellowship Program - Fellows participate in an all-expense paid Leadership & Development Symposium in NYC, network with our corporate partners, receive individual coaching and mentoring for internship success, and more! This opportunity is open to all sophomores with disabilities at four year universities in the US. Deadline to apply: Sunday, March 31st

BABYSIT/MENTOR: UrbanSitters is a way for students to help care for children with special needs in the Park Cities and give back to the community. Many parents have children with developmental and learning differences, and would love to have a caregiver who'd mentor their child through personal experience and teach their child new things in an alternative manner. You set your available hours and dates, then parents send booking requests that you can accept or reject. Contact catherine.paitzel@urbansitter.com for details or visit <http://UrbanSitter.com>.
