SNL MEETING

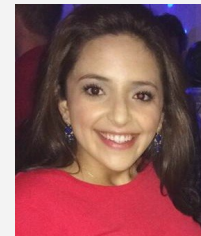

Students for New Learning

SNL is a student organization just for students with LD/ADHD

From SNL's President, Victoria Serrano:

"I can't picture my SMU experience without SNL!

I have made new friends, learned about myself, discovered new ways to solve problems, impacted others and made a difference on campus. I hope to see you at our first meeting on September 17th!"

DASS Student Tech Guerrero shares thoughts on the COSD conference last spring.....

Tech Guerrero attended a career summit in Fort Worth last semester, referred by his DASS coordinator. This event, the Career Opportunities for Students with Disabilities, is a non-profit organization offering a chance for students and recent college graduates a chance to connect with employers who appreciate diversity and are invested in integrating these valuable potential employees into their workforce. Here's what Tech had to say afterwards. "This career fair is one of the best events I have attended, so motivating, pragmatic, connecting, and fun. What a great way to get to know the companies that truly understand diversity and invest resources in events like this. What a fortune it was that it happened in North Texas this time. Thanks for the DASS student newsletter and the motivation to attend, your efforts can make a big impact in students' lives."

Calling all artists-especially those with LD!

The Dallas Branch of the International Dyslexia Association is calling for paintings, drawings, photographs, and sculpture from children, teens, and adults with dyslexia that portray your expression of how dyslexia can help "design your future" through the strengths and the challenges that exist. The contest is to raise awareness of dyslexia and its strength-related and challenge-related impacts, in coordination with Dyslexia Awareness Month, October.

Deadline to submit is 5:00pm, 9/26/14
