Is Anxiety Getting YOU down?

Take advantage of the free group offered by CAPS psychologists, starting on Oct. 21st. "Creating Calm" is a structured group that teaches students about the nature of anxiety and how to reduce anxiety and stress levels. This group will conveniently be held in the A-LEC. Time: Tuesdays 9-9:45am 10/21-11/25. To reserve a space for any one or all of the sessions, please contact Jennifer Bradford, PhD at jbradford@smu.edu or (214)768-1567.

KIC SCANNER

How the KIC scanner in Fondren Library can help you

For students with learning disabilities, visual impairments, or even attention issues, it can be helpful to get your reading material into an e-version in order to listen to it. The very fancy KIC scanner in Fondren Library can help! Scan documents quickly, save them as higher quality and as a searchable PDF so Kurzweil or another screenreader can easily read them. You can even select to save the document as an audio file! It comes to your email as an mp3 computer-generated voice reading the page...amazing! There are KIC scanners in Hamon and Bridwell libraries too. Talk to a DASS staff person or a librarian for more information.

TESTING AT DASS

Remember, when you come to test at DASS you are expected to start at your scheduled time. Your studying should be completed before you arrive to the LEC. Please handle yourself as you would if you were walking into your professor's classroom for a test...be on time, prepared, and respectful of others testing.

You can't make up the time if you arrive AFTER your scheduled time to test.

Computer Science or related fields – SCHOLARSHIP!
