DID YOU KNOW?

Jennifer Aniston, beloved 45 year old actress, revealed in a recent interview with The Hollywood Reporter, that despite her current superstar status, life hasn't always been easy.

It was while getting a new pair of glasses in her early 20s the star finally was tested and learned that she had dyslexia. Having long struggled in school, the discovery of what was holding her back immediately changed her perception of herself. “I thought I wasn't smart.

I just couldn't retain anything she said. “Now

I had this great discovery. I felt like all of my childhood trauma- idies, tragedies, dramas, were explained. Although she struggles in school,

Aniston says it forced her to develop a sense of humor and pushed her towards art and acting classes, which has clearly paid off.
